Reckoning Day

Mystic Prophecy

Witches in a long time before Sacrifice the world in black And now they're back with the infernal storm They come back to me tonight For my heart ad soul will fight I don't try to run away In this darkest judgement day

All my bridges now will burn With the blackness comes the storm For my sins the devil takes his thorn

Never try to betray his name Never touch the burning flame No religion on his way Reckoning day Ever in the crimson sky With the wings of death will fly On your knees go down and pray Reckoning day

Now I'm standing here in the dark From the devil I'm a part Suicide and killing me Shadow spirits set me free

All my bridges now will burn With the blackness comes the storm For my sins the devil takes his thorn

Never try to betray his name Never touch the burning flame No religion on his way Reckoning day Ever in the crimson sky With the wings of death will fly On your knees go down and pray Reckoning day
