

Raw

Nadine Coyle

I was numb was someone i didn't know
Locked away so afraid i was too exposed
Couldn't see, wouldn't feel, couldn't make a connection

With no control i was low then i saw your face
You were true then i knew i could be embraced
Set me free to be me no longer rejected

You left me raw, i let you take it all
You stripped me to the core, your love has left me raw

Learn to fly, went so high give me a set of wings
Took our time we could climb right into our dreams
I can feel this is real nothing has felt better

When we touch felt like a rush i was almost scared
No pretense so intense i was unprepared
Felt so much with this love there's no scale to measure

You let me raw, i let you take it all
You stripped me to the core, your love has left me raw
You fill me up, with such a feeling
I didn't know i was needing so much more
You left me raw, you got me raw, you left me raw
I let you take it all, you stripped me to the core
Our love has left me raw
