Unite

Nana Mouskouri

Unite Two lovers meet It's like an endless page Filling out a story Making it complete

Unite A lover's call We heard that sound before When you hear me calling We'll find each other

And now we're going to stand A union till the end Our love is not a masquarade I want the world to see True love has meant to be I know that we should never be Afraid

Unite It's just a word But what it means to you When someone's calling out

Unite What lovers say In nights they celebrate With each new elation They find each other

And now we're going to stand A union 'till the end Our love is not a masquerade I want the world to see True love has meant to be I know that we should never go That we should never know That we should never be Afraid (3x)
