The End

Nancy Sinatra

At the end of the rainbow You'll find a pot of gold At the end of a story You'll find it's all been told But our love has a treasure Our hearts can always spend And it has a story without any end

At the end of a river The water stops it's flow At the end of a highway There's no place you can go But just tell me you love me And you are only mine And our love will go on Till the end of time Till the end of time
