Napalm Death

Outright - in my thinking And refusal in accepting How a word so mundane as sexism Could in some way relate to me But as I look inside myself I see... Opinions are somewhat blurred in conception Passive thoughts become impassive obsessions And I find I have the ability... To manipulate those gullible to my persuasion With deceitful words and actions Channelled into one dimensional emotions Not take persons trust under false pretension Outright - in my thinking And refusal - in accepting How a word so mundane as sexism Could in some way relate to me But as I look inside myself I see the contradictions.
