I live in my own world, me and my family To things that happens in the third world I turn my back

Why be so fucking trapped in yourself Stand up and say no to the bad things in life

I don't see anything!

If we could open our eyes and see how it is Instead of running away from the truth

I live in my own world, me and my family To things that happens in the third world I turn my back

Why be so fucking trapped in yourself Stand up and say no to the bad things in life

I don't see anything!

If we could open our eyes and see how it is Instead of running away from the truth

I live in my own world, me and my family To things that happens in the third world I turn my back

Why be so fucking trapped in yourself Stand up and say no to the bad things in life

I don't see anything!

If we could open our eyes and see how it is Instead of running away from the truth