Resistance

Tell me what you believe in Wage your values against mine And tell me I am just some piece of shit With a fucked up mind Why can't I just shut the fuck up?

Dead, but you're still breathing A consumer of the highest rank I wonder when you're gonna realize That you are just a product And you shouldn't shit where you eat

Never free, never been Always chained to misery Always blind to what's beyond The horizon, you're just a drone

It is all so sickening Your wife and kids and family You don't care 'cause they're all dead Just like yourself, they keep them fed

Feed you with lies, destroy your minds

Wake-up call, now you stall So it's their world, not free for all? Finally you hear the news A tainted picture, an awful bruise

Confusion, now the bubble bursts It's time to hit them where it hurts Destroy the core, melt the machine Resistance, where it all begins

Open your eyes, look into mine

Fed you with lies Destroyed your minds Open your eyes Look into mine and realize

Resist
