

Thanks to You

Nat King Cole

Thank you for teaching me how to love
Showing me what the world means
What I've been dreaming of
And now I know there is nothing that I could not do
Thanks to you

For teaching me how to feel
Showing me my emotions
Letting me know what's real
From what is not

What I've got is more
That I'd ever hoped for
And a lot of what I hope for is
Thanks to you

No mountain, no valley
No time, no space
No heartache, no heartbreak
No fall from grace

Can't stop me from believing
That my love will pull me through
Thanks to you

There's no mountain, no valley
No time, no space
No heartache, no heartbreak
No fall from grace

Can't stop me from believing
That my love will see me through
Thanks to you
Thanks to you

For teaching me how to live
Putting things in perspective
Teaching me how to give
And how to take

No mistake
We were put here together
And if I breakdown
Forgive me but it's true

That I'm aching
With the love I feel inside
Thanks to you
Thanks to you
