

In Silence

Natalia Kukulska

I 've had a dream that I've held in it's truth
I have a gift that I am sharing with you
Share you before we are through
At the dawn or the dusk better say all you have to

Call me right now cause it's still not too late
I know that a woman in love, she can wait
Say what you've not said before
In the space , I know
Is there a way

How many days that we've been through
So many ways I'm loving you
I'm on my own in silence celebrating loneliness
And that's the way the story goes
And that's the way the river flows

Taken this moment before it is gone
As waves on the sea changing paths and flows
A minute from now might be late
I see what you feel you've got so much to say

I saw this once in a dream and I see
All that you could have become for me
No way to start over now
Gone too far all this feels like a dream

How many days that we've been through
So many ways I'm loving you
I'm on my own in silence celebrating loneliness
And that's the way the story goes
And that's the way the river flows

Now I know that I was blind
Searching for the guiding light
I couldn't see it anymore
I choose the nearest door
Now I know that you're afraid
That for us it is too late
But I feel it anyway
That I am in love again

I 've had a dream that I've held in it's truth
I have a gift that I am sharing with you
Share you before we are through
At the dawn or the dusk better say all you have to

Call me right now cause it's still not too late
I know that a woman in love, she can wait
Say what you've not said before
In the space , I know
Is there a way
