

7000 Miles

Natalia Lesz

In the darkness
In the shadows
Taking cover
Reckless lovers

We were fighting
Just surviving
Always knowing
Life was slowing

I needed you
They're by my side
You weren't
It wasn't fair
You left me filled with doubt

It;s the most
That I think I've ever cried
When I realized
That our flame had died to just an ember

It was a second too late
And we were 7 thousands miles apart
I was tired of crying
So I knew had to break your heart
Our love at stake
I tried to wait I waited
Was it our fate?
Was it our love that faded?

Did I miss it?
Was I careless?
Did I give it
All I could have

Was it foolish?
Like a child
Letting our love
Grow too wild

You needed me
There by your side
I tried
Neither could win
We needed some way out
