

Paper Rain

Natalia

Wide-eyed maybe that's true
But most of the time I can't see through you
You say I'm too sweet for my own good
But when your anger lets you down,
I understood

You're burning up from inside out
While you're writing your life down
There are things that you can't see
And one of them is me

You've been walking in a paper rain
There's a storm inside your head on this perfect day
Come down from your cloud and walk my way
And let the paper blow away

Tell me what I should do
When you want to paint the day every shade of blue
Is it too late for us to shine
Can you crawl into the light and just be mine

Your world of words is so unreal
Sometimes I wonder if you feel
The same emotions that I do
When I'm close to you

You've been walking in a paper rain
There's a storm inside your head on this perfect day
Come down from your cloud and walk my way
And let the paper blow away

Do you wonder what would happen if you let me in?
Are you afraid to give yourself away?
Will your thunder disappear and the night come crashing in, crashing in to the light of day?

You've been walking in a paper rain
There's a storm inside your head on this perfect day
Come down from your cloud and walk my way
And let the paper blow away

You've been walking in a paper rain
There's a storm inside your head on this perfect day
Come down from your cloud and walk my way
And let the paper blow away

You've been walking in a paper rain
There's a storm inside your head on this perfect day
Come down from your cloud and walk my way
And let the paper blow away
