

Unexpected

Natalia

I've never had a sign above my head
Saying: 'Walk all over me!'
Once I leave, I don't regret the things I did
And I like strange relationships

I rely on me, myself and I
If I lose my way
So what, I tried
Are you still interested?

Wouldn't want you breathing down my neck
Except horizontally
Even I'm not sure of what comes next
I let it flow naturally

The party goes where I go
Mad, bad and dangerous to know
To know
Can you handle it?

So before you get to know me
Open wide your dirty mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected

The more you get to know me
You'll wonder how you lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room for the unexpected

Don't you know that I want you?
Don't you know that?
Unexpected
Don't you know that I want you?
Don't you know that?

I live me life in overdrive
Put the needle in the red
All my senses are working overtime
Got a crazy kind of Zen

Step inside, new rules apply
If you're ready, just call me tonight
Whoo!
We can let it flow

So before you get to know me
Open wide your dirty mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected

The more you get to know me
You'll wonder how you lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room for the unexpected

So before you get to know me

Open wide your dirty mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected

The more you get to know me
You'll wonder how you lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room for the unexpected

Don't you know that I want you?
Don't you know that I want you?
Don't you know that I want you?
Don't you know that I want you?
Don't you know that I want you?
Don't you know that I want you?
Don't you know that I want you?
Leave the little room for the unexpected

Just so you know
I'm fire without smoke
I'm bass without buzz
Let's see how low we can go

Wherever we land
It's out of your hands
So many beautiful things
You can't control

Leave a little room for the unexpected

So before you get to know me
Open wide your dirty mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected

The more you get to know me
You'll wonder how you lived without it
Take all the love that you need
All that you need

So before you get to know me
Open wide your dirty mind
Who knows where it could lead
If you leave a little room for the unexpected

The more you get to know me
You'll wonder how you lived without it
Take all the love that you need
But leave a little room for the unexpected
