Time goes between us, and there's no release Silent ref'rence to defenses raised higher Than we'll ever need The more we try, flame inside gets colder to the touch Taking for granted, gets taken for granted too much

So come on and move me
Let me feel you move me
Prove me wrong, show me I still belong
Come on and move me
Let me feel you move me like you used to

She never asked anything of me
That I could ever be
Now we're lyin' in the shade
Sharpenin' the blades of our rivalry
Untidy lies, they could never disguise
The truth behind the door
Feelin's grow nearer, then disappear again some more

So come on and move me
Let me feel you move me
Prove me wrong,s how me I still belong
Come on and move me
Let me feel you move me like you used to

There can be no contention, come on and move me Let me feel you move me Prove me wrong, show me I still belong Come on and move me Let me feel you move me like you used to Move me, come on.
