The Conflict The Vineyard

Neal Morse

A wild boar has entered in the vineyard We'll burn his books and skin him alive And we'll do him like all the rest He never more will rise

You are Babylon the destroyer You destroyed the truth with all of your lies And you will go down to the grave And never more will rise

A wild boar entered in the vineyard We'll burn his books and skin him alive And we'll do him like all the rest He never more will rise