

The Art of Love

Neil Diamond

She said, It's time to teach you the art of love
She said, we're gonna reach to the heart of love a place you never knew, a place that lives somewhere inside of you.

I know I'm on a journey I won't forget I know I had it in me to give and yet I never could before I had to, if I wanted to be yours.

You made me see I'd have to be a brand new man he lives in me, so here in me is where I began.

You showed the kind of lesson I can't erase You showed a way to get from that lonely place to where love comes alive and you'd be waiting there when I arrived.

The truth was clear, love's not a place you go to find it lives in here
just leave it space, give it time

I learned that I could stumble and maybe fall I learned in being humble I'd have it all a brand new way to live, that love's not what you have but what you give and the art of love is who you share it with.
