

Stephen

Neil Sedaka

Stephen, have we travelled down this road together?
Tell me, Stephen are we part of one another?
The lonely river winds and bends,
I've been here waiting where the river ends
Waiting for you, a long time.

Stephen, let me sing your song
I know you held it for so long,
I'll sing and play for you
So you can touch the world again.
I'll be your voice, I'll be your hands,
Come touch the world again.

Softly, I can feel your magic in my fingers.
Sweetly, I can hear the echo that still lingers.
I know you've come a long long way,
And if there's something that you've got to say,
Why can't we tell them, together.

Stephen, let me sing your song
I know you held it for so long,
I'll sing and play for you
So you can touch the world again.
I'll be your voice, I'll be your hands,
Come touch the world again.

Stephen, let me sing your song
I know you held it for so long,
I'll sing and play for you
So you can touch the world again.
I'll be your voice, I'll be your hands,
Come touch the world again
