

Waiting For Never

Neil Sedaka

Do you remember
All that you told me,
That you would love me and never leave me.
I can remember
You used to hold me,
How could I know then you would deceive me.
You have broken the promise
That you'd love me for ever,
Now I'm waiting for never, never, never.

Here I stand waiting, waiting for never,
Knowing that never comes all too soon.

Never is lonely, never is sorrow.
If I could only hold back tomorrow,
Our last moment together could have lasted for ever
But I'm waiting for never, never, never.

Here I stand waiting, waiting for never,
Knowing that never comes all too soon, it comes too soon,
it comes too soon...