You, you got your head in a screen
And I'm, I'm trying to get your attention, mmmmm
You appear as a child, with your heart on your sleeve
But you're acting exactly as you do in my dreams
I said you, you are not what you seem
And you're finding out that

Falling down can feel strange
No one remembers your name
You're losing the game
That's the thing about trust
It's always the same sad story again
You lose all your friends
That's the thing about trust

You, you've got your head in a swing, yeah
And I, I'm trying to give you salvation
You appear as a devil, like a wolf in the woods
But you're acting exactly as we expected you would
I said you, you hear the words that I sing
It's a shock to the system

Falling down can feel strange
No one remembers your name
You're losing the game
That's the thing about trust
It's always the same sad story again
You lose all your friends
That's the thing about trust

Don't lie to me when the pressure's on, you gotta have trust
Don't lie to me when the pressure's on, you gotta have trust
Don't lie to me when the pressure's on, you gotta have trust
Don't lie to me when the pressure's on, I said you gotta have trust

[2x:]

Falling down can feel strange
No one remembers your name
You're losing the game
That's the thing about trust
It's always the same sad story again
You lose all your friends
That's the thing about trust
