

Hunt

Nest

This is a life-long struggle for survival.

There's nothing glorious about it. Nor is there hate, nor honour.

Such things have little meaning when the choice is between feeding and death.

And you know that is no choice at all.