The Doorway

Neurosis

to burrow my way through death and flesh all beasts i let out ú ill buried untold to lock my cage ú unleash the fallen fear eyes contain light in my soul feral snakes collide burn in my skull freeing the circles ú that night i saw a burial train all thieves i bludgeon from ice i burn breathe astral plane greyed eye enclosed ú seer east is gone from now on, farther on i'm nailed to the crossroads searching for the piece of me that wasn't mine, blood dripping from my hands my end has seen the figure of my lightkeeper standing in the doorway
