where is the price to pay for the life you've thrown away could you believe it is gone every word you say

may never go away
try to focus and listen i am what you are searching for i've got something to believe in i am the one you've been looking for i have something you are missing i tried to find it just can't believe it

try to find my way home take me home
