

The Difference

Neurotech

See the world through the eyes you can trust
See the world through the mind while the past is blind
See the world through the eyes you can trust
See the world which reminds you what you have left behind
You see the worst in the eyes you don't trust
You see the worst in the mind that is not defined
You see the worst in the eyes you don't trust
You see the worst - a remainder what you have left behind

This isn't about the difference anymore
This time I will burn the picture and end it all
This isn't about a different scenario
No reason for this addiction, forget it all

See the world covered with rust
See the world coloured by your distrust
See the world becoming unjust
But you must, see the world with your heart - forget what's left behind
You see the worst in the eyes you don't trust
You see the worst in the mind that is not defined
You see the worst in the eyes you don't trust
But it is important just to let it all out

It is important, just to let it all out

This isn't about the difference anymore
This time I will burn the picture and end it all
This isn't about a different scenario
No reason for this addiction, forget it all
