

I Never Chose You

Neuroticfish

You think that I'm satisfied
Because I'm not leaving you
Desperately searching for something,
Defeating me too
So don't you start to protest
You think I can make you believe
That we are here to encounter
What makes you agree

I can see you, I can feel you
And now I understand
All the damage that I did to you
But I never chose you
I can see you, I can hear you
And now you understand
Anything that I had to do
But I never chose you

Endearingly I take my time
To give you anything you wanted
Like somebody received all your prayers
But only just to service you
You'd better be careful, you see
Maybe there is something that can go wrong
Every single wish is special to me
Impossible to make undone

I can see you, I can feel you
And now I understand
All the damage that I did to you
But I never chose you
I can see you, I can hear you
And now you understand
Anything that I had to do
But I never chose you

I never chose you, but you have chosen me
I never chose you...

I can see you, I can feel you
And now I understand
All the damage that I did to you
But I never chose you
I can see you, I can hear you
And now you understand
Anything that I had to do
But I never chose you

I can see you, I can feel you
And make you understand
This can't be only up to you
Cuz I never chose you
Can you see me, can you hear me?
And don't you understand
No one will ever pull you though?
Cuz I never chose you

Cuz I never chose you
