The Champion

Neva Dinova

The champion, he locked up the fight With a strong uppercut from his right hand Might has overcome right again, he cried

I'm much too tired to explain How I let my life get away Older now everyday, I tried

It's not that I'm scared But just that I care What you're going through Oh...

Breaking the rules one by one Trying to convince all my friends This'll never happen again And I'll try to make amends
