

Alone

Never Heard of It

She had Screeching Weasel
Playing on her radio
Her windows down she looked at me and then she waved hello
I smiled back and thought about
The time when my dad said
There'd be a lightning bolt
And it'll hit you some day
And I've never felt that way
That's when we met and I knew
That we would stay together
From that moment on but I
Messed up and I know I was Wrong I miss that smile when I'd sing her a song I feel so
Alone cause now It's all gone

She's always talking in her sleep
I realize now more than before
That I'm for her and she's for me
I know that her and me can't
Be hurt by this tragedy
The way she'd laugh and cry
And look me in the eyes and
Feel the same way as I do
I'm here all alone there's no one
Around but I'm being blinded
By the sound of her voice
Sitting here on the ground
I'm laughing out loud
Realizing how stupid I am
And I know I was wrong I miss
That smile when I'd sing her
A song I feel so alone cause
Now it's all gone

Sometimes I'd like to try to Try moving on without you
Maintaining composure is so
Hard to do confrontations are Hard when your hearts filled
With doubt and I can't seem
To form a sentence with these Marbles in my mouth
