

Bleeds To An End

Neverending White Lights

I long to be safe again
It's all I need if I know I won't see your face
A look inside that won't come back
I know who you are
I need to hold you close and take us back again

Take all my strength
For this heart you're to blame
Don't you wait until it all bleeds to an end
Bleeds to an end

From this place to world caves in
A lasting heart I can't seem to understand
And now you're away when I come to
I know its strength
I need to hold you close and take us back again

So take all my strength
For this heart you're to blame
But please don't wait till it all
Don't you wait till, you wait till it all bleeds to an end

I don't see it how I want this time
I don't see it how I want cause you see it for me
I never knew a heart could die again

Only, only you
