

So Much Of Not Enough

Neverstore

I've never felt like this before
A bad feeling I've been trying to ignore
So this is it, we won't give it
Another chance do you say.
No explanation, only silence
And it's tearing me apart

So tell me, so tell me
What I've done
I wonder, I wonder
How it got so wrong

It hurts so bad, all those things you said
I feel so cheap, used and untidy

It's all those small things adding up
I've been burning bridges, felt like giving up
The burning flame is not a the same, it never felt like fire
A tiny voice is whispering your name and I'm going insane

So tell me, so tell me
What I've done
I wonder, I wonder
How it got so wrong.

It hurts so bad, all those things you said
I feel so cheap, used and untidy

Everything I do, reminds me about you
Maybe we have to much to come out
I can not feel love, and I can not feel pain
Then of course is all the shame, and killing time
It's still my favourite game.

So tell me, (so tell me)
It hurts so bad, all those things you said
I feel so cheap, used and untidy

It hurts so bad, all those things you said
I feel so cheap, used and untidy