

I Found My Way Back Again

Nevertheless

Keep the front door locked
Lights out so no one can see me
Or where I've been
I got them all convinced that I'm fine
With no one around me
No one gets in
This hollow shell
This little hell

You took me out of the dark,
But I found my way back again
I'm not doing well
I'm not doing well
Take me out of the dark
And back to the place where I fell
Back with You

Everybody else feels fine
Their lives are so perfect
They have no shame
I'm an open book
Filled with stories about me
That don't mean a thing
In this hollow shell
This little hell

Just let Him in tonight...
