New Found Glory

I'm broken down I'm a nervous wreck
My heart is beating out of my chest
And nothing feels familiar at all to me,
Yeah, to me
My head is like a traffic jam
I can't stop crashing into bed
But then again I find it hard to breathe,
Yeah, to breathe

I can't get your face out of my head
It makes my brain hurt
I can't get your face out of my head
It makes my brain hurt
I need radiosurgery, radiosurgery

I'm hearing voices that are not there
When no one calls I could be anywhere
No medication could stop this spreading through me
Yeah, through me

I can't get your face out of my head
It makes my brain hurt
I can't get your face out of my head
It makes my brain hurt
I need radiosurgery

My best friends they don't even know
That my mind is going thousand miles an hour
I climb walls just to see the world
But time slows down
Minutes turn to hours
I force myself to open my eyes,
But I lose control,
Hope turns to madness
I can't stop myself from walking backwards

Yeah!

I can't get your face out of my head
It makes my brain hurt
I can't get your face out of my head
Radiosurgery

I've broken down I'm a nervous wreck
My heart is beating right out of my chest
I can't get your face out of my head
I need radiosurgery, radiosurgery!
