Stubborn

New Found Glory

Visions of red
I never thought that I could get here
In the past the pain would blind me
And at times I'd wish you dead
Now I see a picture clearer than the morning
To you I was a monster
And you had to save yourself

R: For only one more night
   To hold you close
   To tell you you were right
   Oh, and I'll take all the blame
   For only one more night
   To say what I was too stubborn to before
   Oh, and I'll take all the blame
   Stubborn, I was stubborn
   Too stubborn before
   Too stubborn before

I left you alone
While I went off into my own world
Throw up my arms in anger
When you'd try to come pull me out
Now I see myself more clearly than the morning
To you I was hopeless
And I had to save myself

R:

I'm not trying to win you back
I'm not on my knees
I owe you this much
I'm not holding grudges anymore
Anymore

R:
