

Twilight Home

New Model Army

Now the thick warm cream light fades down into the mist from the sea Three surfers Åçâ¬â¬S tiny black specks out across in the great waves Lanterns of the little town over on the hill Åçâ¬â¬S twilight sweet homecoming
It's all the same
And these things we hold in our hearts
Like a promise in the salt of our blood
Until we come home

And always the breathing of the breaking surf Drifts through the curtains and through our dreaming
to ourselves
Like a promise in the salt of
our blood
Until we come home
