

Architect Of Love

New Young Pony Club

Time, has made a mark of me
And you it stalks the dream
Of endless summers

This, was broken from the start
The blueprint had no art
The architect of love
Does not remember us

The architect of love
Does not remember

We, remember to forget
The gift that was we met
Habitual responses
Override our wants

This, was broken from the start
The blueprint had no art
The architect of love
Does not remember us

The architect of love

The architect of love
Does not remember, remember us

This
Was broken from the start
Was broken from the start
Does not remember us
The architect of love

The architect of love
Does not remember, remember us

The architect of love

Remember us
