

Choose To Love

NewSong

Here on the battle line
You're on your side, I'm on mine
We've built a wall so high, one brick at a time
Was it pride or was it fear?
The reason still unclear
But here we are, a world apart

What if we stood with hearts wide open
Ready to start again
What if we let God's grace take over
Learn to forgive and forget
What if we choose to love
We choose to love
We choose to love
What if we choose to love
We choose to love
We choose to love

A little time, a little faith
A little mercy for mistakes
Maybe love is all it takes to heal these scars
When we lay our weapons down
All the walls fall to the ground
We were worlds apart, and now here we are

What if we stood with hearts wide open
Ready to start again
What if we let God's grace take over
Learn to forgive and forget
What if we choose to love
We choose to love
We choose to love
What if we choose to love
We choose to love
We choose to love

Nothing, nothing
Nothing, nothing
Can stop us now
Can stop us now
[x2]

What if we stood with hearts wide open
Ready to start again
What if we let God's grace take over
And learn to forgive and forget

What if we stood with hearts wide open
Ready to start again
What if we let God's grace take over
Learn to forgive and forget
What if we choose to love
We choose to love
We choose to love
What if we choose to love
We choose to love
We choose to love

We choose to love
We choose to love