

Start All Over On Mars

NewSong

Sometimes I wonder how You could ever love us
We're never satisfied no matter what You do
You send the rain and we complain there's no sunshine
Yet every breath we take is all because of You

Only heaven knows the pain we put
You through
I don't know what You're thinking Lord
But I know what I would do

I'd start all over on Mars
Create a world that is far away
From our ungratefulness
If I were the God that You are
I would be tempted to walk away
Wash my hands of this crazy mess
Make a world that would follow Your heart
I'd start all over on Mars

Sometimes I wonder will things get any better
Looks like we haven't changed since the dawn of time
You light the way still we stay in darkness
And we try to tell ourselves that we will be just fine

Only heaven knows the pain we put You through
I don't know what You're thinking Lord
But I know what I would do

Lord, I'm sure that You know where this crazy world is headed
And I'm sure You know just what the future holds
Don't give up on us Lord, even though we don't deserve it
It's good to know that You're in control
