

Where No Man Has Gone Before

NewSong

No more days slipping through my hands
No more wasted nights
I've come too far to deny my heart
This dream I hold inside

I want to know the depth of God's love
'Till I have it all
I won't have enough
No matter how deep
I'm jumpin' in it
Whatever the cost
I'm gonna give it

I want to go
Where no man's gone before
I want to go where I can love Him more and more and more
My heart is sure
My course complete
I'm setting out for a new frontier
I want to go
Where no man's gone before

I have heard about the faithfulness
Of the saints of old
But I need to know for myself
How far my heart can go

I'm reaching out
Where no man can see
On faith I'm exploring all God has for me
Wherever He leads I'm walking in it
I'm going beyond all of the limits

I'm pressing on into uncharted lands
I want every treasure
He holds in His hands
I'll reach for the stars
I'll go to extremes
I'll live my whole life
In pursuit of this dream
