

Indecisive

Newton Faulkner

Evidence of your
Time here haunts me everywhere I look
I see you breaking my heart,
Breaking my heart.

Indecisive, you can't stand silence
You're complicated but I know all that you are,
All that you are.

I know in time it will fade not grow,
But I don't want it to go.

No, you can't die from a broken heart
But breathing in and out gets hard
Is there nothing that I can say to change your mind?
Where do you go if you fall too far?
There's nothing in between the stars
Is there nothing that I can say to change your mind?
To change your mind

Can't find what you can't see
Creeps up behind me
Breaking and entering under my skin.
Under my skin.

There's nowhere left to hide
Not even my pride's left you can't deny this
The state that I'm in,
The state that I'm in.

I know in time it will fade not grow,
But I don't want it to go.

No, you can't die from a broken heart
But breathing in and out gets hard
Is there nothing that I can say to change your mind?
Where do you go if you fall too far?
There's nothing in between the stars
Is there nothing that I can say to change your mind?
To change your mind..
To change your mind..

Uh

I know in time it will fade, not grow
But I don't want it to go

No, you can't die from a broken heart
But breathing in and out gets hard
Is there nothing that I can say to change your mind?
Where do you go if you fall too far?
There's nothing in between the stars
Is there nothing that I can say to change your mind?
To change your mind..
To change your mind..
