

Soon

Newton Faulkner

Today will be different, that day is gone
Little change in the weather
Break through the sun
The darker the night
The brighter you burn
And when it comes, you will know
The weight will fall from your bones

It's coming
Soon, soon
It's coming
Soon, soon

For once in your life
It's gonna be alright
It's coming

Won't ever tire, won't let you crack
I've taken the pressure, won't stop pushing back
Don't know where you are
But know where you're from
And when it comes, let it go
Don't waste your time breaking code

It's coming
Soon, soon
It's coming
Soon, soon

For once in your life
It's gonna be alright
Whatever keeps you alive
Don't question why

Oh no no
We can't give up
And we can't get in
The signs of the rhythm
Getting under your skin

The love that falls
Between the cracks
Is broken but we'll get it back
Soon

It's coming
Soon, soon
It's coming
Soon, soon

For once in your life
It's gonna be alright
Whatever keeps you alive
Don't question why

Now I understand
Now I understand

Stop looking for a rainy day
You'll never find
