

Great Divide

Nick Carter

I'm waking up you're going to sleep
And I wonder are you thinking of me
I'm getting ready for another day without you
And you're just starting to dream

It's hard to let it go to make it through the day
It's hard to hold on when we're both so far away
Maybe we should just move on get on with our lives
But how can we survive

When our hearts are so connected
That we'll die when you take them apart
When one half of me is missing
If I can't hold you here my arms
Can we overcome the distance
Make it through the time
Can our love bridge the waters
Overcome the great, the great divide, divide, divide

I'm soaking up the sun you're underneath the moon
And I wish that I could share it with you
You live your life and I'm living mine
Somehow we gotta find a way to get through

Its hard to let it go...
(How can we survive)
When our hearts are so connected...

And I keep waiting for the day
When we find a place to stay
And we'll always wake up together (always will be)
And I keep waiting for a time
When every single night
Belongs to me and you
And we'll never have to move again (again)
We can spread our roots and grow

Cause our hearts are so connected
That we'll die when you take them apart
And one half of me is missing
If I can't hold you here in my arms
Can we overcome the distance
Make it through the time
Can our love bridge the waters
Overcome the great, the great divide, divide, divide
