

In the Long Run

Nick Fradiani

Since you've been gone, I've been thinking 'bout it all
Since you've been gone, I've been bouncing off the wall
I know it's wrong to be mixing alcohols
Love before liquor, never been sicker
Since you've been gone, I've been working overtime
Since you've been gone, I've been keeping occupied
But moving on's like a full-time 9-to-5
Wheeling and dealing just to forget the feeling

Of you in my arms
How does something so right end up so wrong?
Now I'm in somebody else's bed, thinking 'bout you and me
Trying to clear my head, but I get no clarity
Cause even when I'm with someone
I'm still coming up short in the long run

Got to admit I am...