

Sensitive Man

Nick Lowe

Lately when I go to steal a kiss
I feel you pulling away
I know something is amiss
But what it is, you won't say
If I've done something to upset ya
Believe me, that was never my plan
But how can I fix it standing out here in the cold?
I'm a sensitive man.

You don't always have to speak
You can say it with a look
Even across a crowded room
I can read it like a book
But other times, when there's something on your mind
Make it as plain as you can
Don't freeze me baby, I'm no dinky-doo
I'm a sensitive man.

I'm a sensitive man
You can hear that in my song
I'm a sensitive man
But first impressions could steer you wrong.

Sincerely, my one desire
Is to make you happy again
But I can't begin 'til you let me back in
I'm a sensitive man.

I'm a sensitive man
You can hear that in my song
I'm a sensitive man
Though first impressions might well steer you wrong.

Sensitive man
(Out in the cold)
Trying to do good
(But so misunderstood)

Sensitive man.