

I Don't Want To Go Home

Nick Mulvey

I was happy in the day and I was minding my own
When she saw the better out of me.
She told me I could be a maker
Though I'd probably make only half of what I need.
Waking early next morning in a sleeping bag alone
Well darling you give me no warning
And I don't want to go home

I don't want to go home
I don't wanna go home
I think of you I've always known
Nobody's ever born alone.

But the one time I mistake her
She back-flipped the breath out of me
She could see I could be a maker
And yes I make-believe her make-ups on my sleeve

But how often a love so come along?
Come rapping and kicking at your door?
How often a love so come along?
But you say you don't want me anymore.

So I don't want to go home
Cause I'm already home
I think of you I've always known
Nobody's ever born alone.

How often a love so come along?
Come rapping and kicking at your door?
How often a love so come along?
But you say you don't want me anymore.

So I don't want to go home
Cause I'm already home
I think of you I've always known
Nobody's ever born alone.

In the fire I find the snow
Illusion come, illusion go.
In the fire I find the snow
Illusion come, illusion go.
