

Bleeding Diamonds

Nicole Atkins

This breath is wasted forever
But I know I'm not the first
I've been putting on my best
To hear the worst
And listening to someone elses fables
From radios at someone elses tables
Trying to find the words you want to hear

Masses are gathering up outside
And it's so dark
Wake up your brothers get in a line
To shoot the stars
And the sky looks like it is bleeding diamonds
Smoke looks just like a thousand garlands
I'm trying to find the words you want to Hear me know cuz I've heard all that I can stand

This is not what I had planned
Pretending my loves home
I bereave my brothers in a silent league
Who wait while all the truth just leaves
To stake their claim alone

It's just another lonely night
It's just another lonely night