

Holy-Captivated

Nicole C. Mullen

When I behold the beauty
Of your many wonders
And I'm captivated by
Your majesty

Oh, my soul rings out
A sacred hallelujah
Back to the source
From whence it came

And when I'm searching
For the face of the invisible
When I reach to hold the hand
That formed my being

All of a sudden everything that
Is within me blesses Your name
Again and again

Crying, holy is the Lord, God almighty
Worthy is the Lamb who was slain
To receive our greatest adoration
Jesus, Son of God is His name

When I am overwhelmed by
All that is around me
And the tears
That flood my heart

Run down my face
I'll remember that Your heart and
Soul was broken and even in pain
Your worthy of praise

Crying, holy is the Lord, God almighty
Worthy is the Lamb who was slain
To receive our greatest adoration
Jesus, Son of God is His name

When I contemplate
The day of our reunion
And I anticipate the One
Who calls my name

There's a yearning
Rising up from deep within me
To be swept away
Forev'r and a day

'Cause I can wait to see the ones
Who've gone before me
Hear the music, taste the laughter
Walk the sea but the moment

I will live and I will die for
Is to hear His voice
Welcoming me

And I cry, holy is the Lord, God almighty
Worthy is the Lamb who was slain
To receive our greatest adoration
Jesus, Son of God is His name

We'll cry, holy is the Lord, God almighty
Worthy is the Lamb who was slain
To receive our greatest adoration
Jesus, Son of God is His name

Jesus, Son of God is His name
Jesus, Son of God is His name
Jesus, Son of God is Your name
