

Live For Today

Night Ranger

Building a bridge
Into someone else's mind
Can be so confusing
And there was no sense of right

Walking a street full of light
And your miles away
Casting your raft
In an ocean of life on the rain

There's a ship heading west
And a house on the hill
A man looking up with an accent to kill
Call for your dream
Are you losing your way?

Live for today, live for today
Let the day bring you something new
Tomorrow can wait
There'll be plenty more to do
Just live for today

Traveling through clouds
I can see there is no one inside
Circling life and the presence
On this midnight ride

There's a time for me
There's a time for you
Something missing from all
And we haven't a clue
Can you help out this dream
Till you leave the parade?

Just live for today, live for today
Let the day bring you something new
Tomorrow can wait
There'll be plenty more to do
Just live for today

Listen, if you can't help you will hear
The silence of the moment
Everything's good

Let the day bring you something new
Tomorrow can wait, live for today
There'll be plenty more to do
Just live for today, live for today

Let the day bring you something new
Tomorrow can wait, live for today
There'll be plenty more to do
Just live for today, just live for today
Just live for today, just live for today
