To the sphere of darkness I send my self to spread my race seeds Enter into nothing Inside a body made of evil deeds Blame it all on you The one who knew That each day that passed Gave birth to the age of rust I am the one to save no Dark Red Sky It's so beautiful Such a beautiful day to die Why dying feels so good Wonder what for we all stood Destroy your symbol of trust Come along to the cosmos of cerebral lust I am the one to say Shut your eyes begin to pray As your life fades away The only icon that remains is the Dark Red Sky
