

When I was young I was filled to the brim
My mind in the clouds with nothing to fear
A few years later i was heading to fall
With no one to help I had to look for myself

You're the machine
The machine running through my veins
You're the machine
The machine suffocating me

You're the machine
The machine running through my veins
You're the machine
The machine suffocating me

I'm just gonna sacrifice my soul again
And wait for judgement day
Sacrifice my mind again
And wait for judgement

Faith on fire
"My faith's on fire"
I need some holy water
Because my faith's on fire

Sacrifice my soul again
Sacrifice my soul again

Come fix your eyes on the storm above
If there's no truth in love

Come fix your eyes on the storm above
