

Enter The Void

Nightmares

When I was down there I only saw your face
You just pretended to care and I was never aware
I can feel it
I can feel it in my sinking chest
Every word that you said
Don't mean a thing when you're dead

I should of ran away
Listened to what the people were telling me
You never had a grasp on reality
Now I can see the venom in your veins

I don't feel the pain
I don't see the sun
I won't feel awake
When the morning comes

I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light

I should of said thank you for everything
You swallowed the pain when I had something to prove
If I could go back in time I swear to god that I would
I'd be a better son
I'd be a better son
Now I see you're still telling people that you're proud of me
I never had a grasp on reality
Now I can see all the love in your veins

I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light

I don't feel the pain
I don't see the sun
I won't feel awake
When the morning comes

I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light
I saw the light
