

A nocturnal concerto candlelight whispers me where to go Hymn of gathering stars as my guide whilst I wander on this path of the night

Embroidery of the stars undress my feelings for this earth Send me your salva to heal my scars and let this nakedness be my birth

Macrocosm poured its powers on me
And the hopes of this world I now must leave The nightwish I sent you centuries ago has been heard by those who dwelled in a woe

The distance of our bridal bed Await for me to be dead Dust of the galaxies take my hand Lead me to my beloved's land

Departed by the guillotine of death
I received a letter from the depth
The dream of my lover it carried inside

Caressed by the sharpest knife
I asked you to be my wife Rays of the setting sun were my tears wept upon promises undone

Come to me
Make me believe to you and your love again

Above the universe
Beneath the Great Eye
I shall desire you forevermore