

Midnight

Nikka Costa

Midnight, under the moonlight
You're saying with your eyes
What I've always known
Sailor, wherever you wandered
The star that you followed

Was guiding you home
Always, now and forever
I promise to be there, you're never alone
Midnight, the feeling was so right
We kissed for the first time

That moment I knew magic, the second of the music
It all was so perfect
A dream coming true
Two hearts
Are wishing on one star
Are waiting an answer
Then out of the blue

There came a bird flying at last
First time out of the nest
You're the sound of the wings
You're the song that she sings
Just a kiss, that was enough
To begin in this love
For the rest of my life

I'll remember that night
I'll remember that night
I'll remember that night
Midnight, under the moonlight

You're saying with your eyes
What I've always known
Sailor, wherever you wandered
The star that you followed
Was guiding you home
Always, now and forever
I promise to be there, you're never alone

Midnight, the feeling was so right
We kissed for the first time
That moment I knew magic, the second of the music
It all was so perfect
A dream coming true
Always, now and forever
I promise to be there, you're never alone
