

Let Her Get Away

Nils Lofgren

She walks like you, even talks like you
But she isn't you, I know that too

So long ago, many years gone by
How could I let her get away

Sorry to bring her up
I know it must seem strange
I do love you, but it's not the same

And you have to know, that I've tried so many times before
How could I let her get away

Da da da...

Now don't get me wrong, it's just a song
You're my one and only one now
And I love you, completely

How could I let her get away
And let you get away too

Da da da...

Can't let you get away too
